Vermont Hunting Tragedies. Three hunting tragedies were reported as taking place in Vermont on Monday as follows:

Samuel Sawyer, aged 86, killed at Westfield, mistaken for deer.

Wallace Montgomery, aged 18, killed at Garfield by his own gun.

Clyde Muzzy, aged 15, wounded in leg by stray bullet at Bolton.

Nelson Loses Arm in Thresher.

S. B. Nelson met with a most serious accident Monday afternoon when helping F. S. Whitcher thresh at his barn just north of Barton village, when his left arm was drawn into the beater of a threshing machine and the arm crushed to a point just below the elbow, where it was later amputated at Cottage hospital.

It appears that Mr. Nelson had been throwing down the grain from the mow and had it all down when he himself slid down from the mow to the feeding table of the machine and in some manner got his arm in the beater.

R. A. M. Masons at Barton.

The annual district meeting of the fourth Capital district, Royal Arch Masons, will be held at Barton on Tuesday afternoon and evening, Dec. 9, commencing at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

The three chapters in the district, Newport, St. Johnsbury and Barton all have a part in the work.

A banquet will be served by the ladies of the Red Cross of Barton in Odd Fellows' hall at 6:15 o'clock.

BIG ART EXHIBIT

Photographic Reproduction of Famous World Masters Friday Night.

A large and beautiful display of photographic reproductions of the world's master paintings and sculptures will be exhibited at Alumni hall Friday evening, Dec. 5th. An excellent program of music will be provided under the direction of Prim Merrill. This will be the finest occasion educationally that Barton has had opportunity to witness for a long time. The purpose of the exhibit is to secure for the grades and high school rooms suitable wall decorations selected from masterpieces of the world's famous artists which the pupils have occasion to become acquainted with in the regular course of study in literature and history. This will be the only opportunity many people of the community will ever have to visit an art gallery. Don't miss it. This is a rare opportunity for you to spend a delightful evening. Do yourself a good turn and render your school a service, all for 25 cents. All pupils admitted free.

bury was a recent guest of her sister, Mrs. Lucy Atanasi, who spent Thanksgiving with relatives in Irasburg.

Henry M. Cutler came home from Dartmouth, which he entered last fall, instead of Exeter, N. H., where he was last year, and as previously reported.

V. F. Miles and Alson Marshall have each purchased a farm in Bradford and are moving there. Barton is sorry to have these families go from town.

Mrs. H. M. Rider and Mrs. T. B. Rider of Fitch Bay, P. Q., were guests of Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Hutchinson last week. Mrs. H. M. Rider is Mrs. Hutchinson's mother.

Prin. Merrill has local charge of the sale of Red Cross Christmas seals, the revenue from which goes to the Vermont Tuberculosis association to aid in the great work it is doing. Let everyone buy a few of these stamps.

Don't forget your 10c subscription to the Snugs. The dimes thus given grow into dollars and the dollars make needy children of the village happy at Christmas time. Mrs. C. A. Barrows will receive your 10c piece.

Fully 100 persons attended the union Thanksgiving service at the Congregational church Wednesday evening of last week when Mr. Hutchinson preached the sermon, which was one full of forceful and helpful thought. Rev. M. A. Turner offered prayer and read the scripture.

The Stanstead (P. Q.) Journal says in its Vermont items: "Quite extensive repairs are being made on the Congregational church in Barton. The new pastor, Rev. J. J. Hutchinson, is evidently commencing his pastorate with his usual energy. He is far from a passive man; he insists on a working hive."

The Woman's Thank-offering meeting for foreign missions was held at the home of George Gorman, Friday afternoon. Twelve ladies were present. An interesting program prepared by Frances Dyer, consisting of Scripture readings, prayers and hymns was carried out. An interesting letter from Miss Cook, a missionary in China from one of her pupils, which was enjoyed. An article on life in China from "The Life and Light," was read by Mrs. King. After a short social time, the meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. Fred Baldwin the last Tuesday in December.

The Thanksgiving meeting of the Woman's Literary club was held with Mrs. Zuar Hanson Monday evening, Nov. 24th. Sixteen members answered roll call and six visitors were present. A fine paper, "Woman's Work Toward Production at Home and Abroad," was prepared by Miss Austin and read by Mrs. Hanson. A story, "Thanksgiving," was read by Mrs. Cook. Howard Cook, Rosalind Buswell, Madeline Flanders and Gordon Hanson recited, "The Landing of the Pilgrim Fathers," by Felicia Hemans. An interesting "Thanksgiving" game was played. Miss Rosalind Buswell won the prize. The hostess served delicious refreshments and a pleasant social hour was spent. The club will meet with Mrs. Pierce on Wednesday, Dec. 10th.

Blair-Lamothe.

On Thursday, Nov. 26, at 9 o'clock a. m., at the R. C. church, occurred the marriage of Miss Florence Blair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Blair of May Pond, to Ernest Lamothe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Lamothe of Newport. Rev. F. T. Marceau performed the ceremony. The bride was nicely attired in a dark blue velvet traveling suit, carrying a beautiful bouquet of white and pink roses. Mass was sung by the Children of Mary, to which the bride belonged. A wedding march was played on the violin by Olivier Frechette.

After the ceremony a bountiful dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents. In the evening the happy couple were tendered a reception at which they received many and valuable gifts, about 125 people being present.

Mrs. Lamothe is a graduate of Barton academy and has been a successful teacher in a district school for two years.

They left Friday for a trip to Boston and other points. On their return they will reside in the city of Newport, where the groom has employment in the store of Mr. Bonneau at that place.

Congratulations and best wishes are extended to the young couple.

Barton Academy Notes

The entire school including the six grades attended a motion picture exhibit Monday afternoon at the Gem theatre. The picture shown was called "Thomas Jefferson Morgan P.-J.-G." and was sent to the school by the Curtis Publishing company with no charges of any nature. The theatre was loaned for the afternoon by the owners, Messrs. Pierce and Caron. An invitation was extended to all parents of school children to be present and a large number attended. The film shown was of great educational value especially to students of salesmanship and to those who are contemplating going into business life. It encouraged to a marked extent thrift, honesty and perseverance.

School lunches which were started this week bid fair to be very successful. Thirty-three students and teachers were served the first day. The menu for the week of Dec. 8 is as follows:

Potato Soup with crackers..... .03
Scalloped rice and salmon..... .05
Creamed carrots..... .03
Celery and Potato Loaf..... .05
Cocoa..... .03

Each class of the high school has purchased a gold fish, which it has placed in the aquarium in the study hall.

Mr. Merrill gave a talk in chapel Monday morning on "How to Avoid Being a Failure."

Arlene and Floyd Marshall leave Barton soon to attend Bradford academy. It is possible that Miss Marshall may return in the spring to receive her diploma with the rest of her class.

Delegates chosen to attend the Sunday school meeting in Orleans on Saturday afternoon are Mrs. A. D. Thurber and Mrs. Ralph Ware.

Rev. C. E. Southard gave us a splendid sermon Sunday morning. Text, I Peter 1:25. A solo was sung by Walter Cleveland Sunday morning.

A very interesting Thanksgiving service was held Thursday morning with the following program: Music, choir; song, Miss Lillian Benware, Dorothy Benware, accompanist; reading, Miss Ethel Gladden; duet, Mrs. Vinnie Elliott, Rev. C. E. Southard; recitation, Masters Alton and Arland Noyes; poem, Mrs. Kate Hancock.

BARTON MAN DROWNS SELF Plunged Into Outlet of Crystal Lake on Night Before Thanksgiving.

M. E. Tullar, who has lived alone in rooms in the "Beehive" on High street in Barton for some six months, drowned himself in the outlet of Crystal lake Wednesday evening. Mr. Tullar was a man about 70 years of age and was practically alone in the world, having only distant relatives living in Barton, and it is thought his rash act on the night before Thanksgiving was the result of brooding over his lonely condition in life.

Mr. Tullar moved to Barton from Orleans last spring and has the shoe repairing but his business has not been large. In a talk with Overseer Gilmour a short time ago he said he had $2000 and the taking of his own life is not attributed to financial difficulties.

It appears that the drowning plan was premeditated, as his coat and hat were on the sidewalk railing where the street crosses the outlet of Crystal lake near the Peerless factory and pinned to the hat was a note telling where his body would be found.

A. L. Tripp, who lives nearby heard the man jump in and rushed to the water's edge but the current had carried the body under the bridge. He then secured a rake from his barn and tried to reach the body from the lower side of the bridge but could not do so.

Then he went to the stream as help arrived and finally brought the body to shore, but attempts at resuscitation were futile.

This is the fifth body Mr. Tripp has taken from the water in the past few years. Two of them were his nephews, who were drowned in Wiloughby lake several years ago, two others were the bodies of Mrs. Kelsey and child, who were drowned in Crystal lake a few years ago (wife and child of Bert Kelsey, recently convicted of murder in Orleans county court) and the body of Mr. Tullar.

Improvement Club Notes.

The first monthly get-together evening of the season was held last week at the invitation of Dr. Hastings as November chairman. Nearly 80 members gathered and with the aid of a half dozen guests from Orleans got together over the feed, whist, music, etc., which made up the evening's entertainment.

Mr. Mooney of Newport, N. H., took his turn at the piano and assisted by our local talent made music for a most enjoyable evening. Many of the familiar songs were sung with spirit and a pleasant evening quickly passed.

A. W. St. Onge furnished the refreshments which were right, judging from the amount that disappeared. A few of the members started a beginners' class in whist, but from later accounts it is look out for "beginners" now. This was the first of a series of monthly events to be held through the winter with a different chairman for each month so that variety is assured. Watch out for the next one.

The latest new members are E. Sockol and E. W. Taylor.

WESTFIELD

(Intended for last week.)

The community met with a great loss Sunday afternoon, when Erwin Clark died after long years of suffering with heart trouble, for several months wholly unable to do anything and for several weeks, intense suffering. A few days ago he contracted a cold and in his weakened condition pneumonia set in and he had no powers of resistance. All that medical skill and unflinching, affectionate care could do were of no avail. The late Mr. Clark was born in this town Sept. 5, 1868, and spent most of his life here. He was so quiet and homespun a man and none doubted his word or personal integrity. About 35 years ago he married Miss Amelia Hartwell of Lowell, who with one son Raymond, in the Lowell high school, survive him. Also two brothers, Lynn, of Johnson, who has been with him for a few months taking the care of the farm as much as possible, and Almon, a merchant in Hyde Park. The family have the sympathy of all in their irreparable bereavement. The funeral was held from his late home Tuesday afternoon.

Tuesday afternoon, Rev. W. G. McFarlane officiating. W. C. Farman was funeral director. The bearers were his two brothers, Lynn and Almon of Hyde Park, Marriott Durivage of Lowell and Homer Edmunds of Morrisville. The house was filled with family and relatives from this and adjoining towns. There was a profusion of beautiful flowers from the family, relatives, the L. A. S. and friends. Among those from out of town were his brother and wife from Morrisville, Homer Edmunds and family and Mrs. E. W. Burnham of Morrisville, Mr. and Mrs. Almon Clark from Hyde Park and many from Troy and Lowell.

War Booms New York.

New York came out of the world war with immensely increased prestige as a port, a manufacturing city, and a financial center.

Kelsey Pronounced Irresponsible.

A committee consisting of Dr. T. J. Allen of the Home for Feeble-Minded at Brandon, Dr. E. A. Stanley of the state hospital at Waterbury and Dr. S. E. Lawton of the Brattleboro Retreat for the Insane, appointed by Gov. P. W. Clement for the purpose of investigating the mental condition of Bert E. Kelsey, now awaiting execution for murder at the state prison in Windsor, reported their findings in a letter to Gov. Clement. This committee was appointed through the efforts of Walter Cleary of Newport, counsel for Kelsey.

The letter states that the three alienists after a careful examination of Kelsey's mental condition are of the opinion that he should not suffer the extreme penalty of the law. They find that Kelsey is not now and never was mentally responsible for his acts.

Kelsey was convicted last spring in Orleans county of the murder of the aged Mr. Allen at Orleans the December before by beating him to death with an iron club, but the appeal in his case was not argued before the supreme court until last summer at which time the court affirmed the verdict of guilty of murder.

Lieut. Roland Moxley Writes from Siberia.

A Fitchburg, Mass., daily prints extracts from a letter from Lieut. Roland R. Moxley of that place, who is now in Siberia. He has full charge of all the drugs, chemicals, surgical dressings and supplies at Vladivostok, which supplies all of Siberia.

Roland Moxley, whose picture accompanies the article, is a graduate of Barton academy and is well known in this part of Orleans county. In his letter he says:

"I left Vladivostok Monday, Sept. 1, on a special Red Cross train, consisting of 24 box cars, one provision car, a dining and cook car and first-class passenger car, in which the personnel travel. There were three nurses, two army officers (who left the train in Manchuria), a United States guard of 11 men, Captain Beckley and myself. We left the nurses at Harbin and took on three doctors, who went to Irkutsk. Irkutsk is 2030 miles from Vladivostok, and we were 12 days making the trip, an average of 170 miles a day, so you see we didn't break any speed records."

"When I arrived in Irkutsk, where I had been sent for further orders, I found a telegram waiting for us to proceed to this place and join the disbarment academy. So I left Sunday night at 6 on a Russian post train in a third-class car, which was the best accommodations to be had. I traveled 670 miles in 51 hours (13 miles an hour) in a compartment with 10 other people, mostly Russian officers. Night and day the train could understand a word of my language. I carried my own food and bought bread along the line as well as tea at several of the stations. I want to tell you it was some experience and one that I would not sell if I could, but I would walk before I would do it again."

"It seems that there are a lot of drugs here in western Siberia that have not been distributed, so I have been sent out here to take a train of 28 cars and put out the stuff at the different stations where Russian hospitals are located. The doctors come to the train and have their wants taken care of. It is very interesting work and I am glad they chose me for this work, as it gives me a chance to see the country that I would never get otherwise."

"It is also quite a compliment to me to have the head of the commission wire to Vladivostok for me as I have since found out he did. I am 12,500 miles from you at the present time, or half way round the world from home. However, we are doing some wonderful work for these people and most of my refugees will probably leave here for Achinsk about Thursday. Our intentions are to go as far as Omsk if we can. That is 1200 miles from here and we will be practically the only Red Cross workers west of Irkutsk. You don't know how hard it is to find something to write about for this country is under strict military law and I will have to save the best news until I get home."

FALL-APPLIED LIME HELPS SPRING CROPS

From the last issue of the Farm Bureau News.

Vermont farmers are coming to realize the need of liming their soils. Usually they think of spring applications, whereas, as a matter of fact, the extension service of the University of Vermont people say lime applied on fall-plowed land may be more effective since it has a longer time in which to become active.

It may be sown previous to plowing when a sufficient application is being made preceding the corn crop to correct surface soil acidity. The land normally would be replowed before seeding the small grain crop, which would serve to mix the lime thoroughly with the plowed soil in advance of clover seeding. Liming of fall-plowed uplands, however, should be done after plowing, in order uniformly to distribute the lime and to secure the greatest benefit.

If the application is insufficient fully to correct the acidity a second dosage should be used after plowing for the small grain crops in which clover is to be seeded. This application can be made after fall plowing just as satisfactorily as after the spring plowing.

All plowed land should be disked or harrowed at least once after the lime has been distributed.

COUNTY GETS DOUBLE WHAT IT PAYS IN

Detail of Payments Made to Towns and Incorporated Districts. Interesting Figures.

Below is given in detail the distribution of state school money to the various towns, incorporated school districts and the city of Newport, as given out by the office of State Treasurer Walter F. Scott. The amount of school tax paid the state in 1919 is also given which affords a comparison between the amount paid to the state and the amount received from the state in each instance.

It will be noted that the rural towns receive much more in proportion to the state school tax paid than the larger and wealthier towns, the city of Newport paying into the state nearly $3000 and receiving back but a little over $300, while Jay, for example pays in less than $200 and receiving more than two dollars from the state.

The total payments made for the work of education by the state in Orleans county exceeds $33,000 while the tax paid to the state is only some over $15,000, the county therefore receives the state for every dollar it pays to the state back more than $1200.
